AGE-OLD QUESTION COMES UP AGAIN

Hot Springs Races Play Important Part in Solution of Big Problem

The famous Hot Springs race track has played an important part in Arkansas politics on more than one occasion.

It required a court decision to determine whether Gov. Hays approved or vetoed the famous Hot Springs Racing bill passed by the legislature a few years ago. Later, Gov. Brough was the recipient of much bitter criticism because he permitted race track gambling at Hot Springs. Thousands of dollars have been won and lost on this famous race track which for many years afforded "fat picking" for the sharks who visited this famous Arkansas resort and played their game to the limit, and it is said that during these racing orgies, both men and women often drank of the lowest dregs of life.

It is therefore very fitting that some of the scenes of "Should a Husband Forgive?" were made at this famous race course in Hot Springs. A horse race is an important feature in one part of the story, and it was here that actual racing scenes at Hot Springs were photographed, showing scenes in and around the stables, paddock and betting ring. Thus it was possible to get some of the most exciting racing scenes ever shown in motion pictures.

Another of the sensational sporting scenes shows an actual boxing match at the Broadway Athletic Club in Brooklyn, New York, between professionals, before an audience of thousands.

The story has its origin in the home of an old time Southern aristocrat, whose refusal to forgive a fancied wrong of his wife, led to a duel with another man, in which the unforgiving husband was killed.

Compelled to leave her little son behind, the wife was driven out into the world by her stern father-in-law—a victim of the husband who would not forgive.

Time passes. The boy grows to young manhood, has plenty of cash and is out for a "good time." He goes to the city—goes all the gaits—finally meets his mother—and later the same question comes up in his life that came up in the life of his father.

What does he do? See it at the Royal, Thursday night, Sept. 30.

TEAM KILLS FARMER

Paragould, Sept. 22.—Will Louey, 50 years old, a farmer, met death Monday afternoon by a runaway team, when he was thrown from a two-horse rake and dragged nearly half a mile through the rough field by the horses. His body was mutilated almost beyond recognition.

COTTON COMING IN

The cotton crop is beginning to move, 41 bales having been sold in Newark up to today. Nearly everybody will begin picking next week and the crop will then begin to move rapidly if the weather continues favorable.

Cotton was selling on the streets today at 28 1-2 cents.

CIGARETTE IS CAUSE OF FATAL SHOOTING

Officer Knocks it From Boy's Mouth and is Killed by Boy's Father

Bald Knob, Sept. 20.—F. T. Rudisill, aged 45, was shot four times early today by Lee Woodall, also 45. He died about four o'clock this afternoon. Both men are farmers and own their own farms. They live about two miles apart. The shooting took place near Rudisill's barn, where he had gone to feed his stock.

There has been ill-feeling between the two for several months. Their enmity was renewed last night when Rudisill who was a constable, knocked a cigarette out of the mouth of Woodall's son. This occurred at a church during services. The youth reported the affair to his father. This is said to have angered Woodall, and to have been the direct cause of the killing.

There were no eyewitnesses to the shooting. It is the belief of officers, however, that Woodall went to Rudisill's house and saw him at the barn. When he got within range, he is said to have fired four times, the shots taking effect in Rudisill's face, stomach and arms. Woodall used a Winchester rifle. Rudisill was not aware of Woodall's presence, it is believed.

Immediately after shooting Rudisill, Woodall left the scene, but later surrendered to the sheriff and was taken to Searcy and placed in jail.

Rudisill is survived by his wife and several children. Woodall is married and has a family. The Rudisill and Woodall farms are about eight miles northwest of Bald Knob.

KILLED BY TRACTOR

Harrisburg, Sept. 19.—Richard Congleton was instantly killed by a farm tractor while cutting rice on his father's farm, about three miles west of Harrisburg. He was cutting rice with a tractor when it stalled, and he shot the gasoline to it suddenly, and the front end reared up, the machine turning completely over and falling on him. Almost every bone in his body was crushed and he never breathed again.

BISHOP-BURTON

Will Bishop and Miss Pearl Burton were married Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, near the White school house, Rev. G. L. Fink officiating.

Nicest home in Newark, two story, eight room residence, good barn, garage and out-buildings, all in first class condition. This place is located in most desirable residence section of town and full block of ground with the place. A genuine bargain at $5,000. E. G. Magness & Co.

HOXIE WANTS UNION PASSENGER STATION

The citizens of Hoxie believe that the importance of that well known and popular railroad center demands an increased station service and they have filed with the Corporation Commission, a petition to require the Missouri Pacific and the Frisco railroads to build a modern Union depot for passenger service. The petition has been set for hearing October 20. On the same day the commission will hear a petition for a brick depot to be built by the Iron Mountain at Sheridian.

J. H. CROSSER DEAD

J. H. Crosser died at his home north of town last Monday following a prolonged illness.

Mr. Crosser came to this place several years ago from Tennessee. He was a good man and a good citizen. He is survived by his wife and several children.

The remains were buried Tuesday at Mount Zion, Rev. B. F. Cash conducting the funeral services.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Newark Lodge No. 248, F. & A. M.

We, your committee appointed to draft proper resolutions of respect in memory of Brother B. F. Adams, beg leave to report as follows:

Whereas, it has pleased the Grand Architect of the Universe to call from labor to refreshment our dearly beloved Brother B. H. Adams, who departed this life, September 19, 1920, and who had been a faithful member of this order for many years.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we humbly bow to the will of Him who doeth all things well and that while our hearts go out in sympathy for the bereaved relatives and friends of the deceased, yet we are mindful of the fact that the Angel of Death is but waiting at the outer portals for us all.

Be it further resolved that we extend our sympathy to the family and many friends of Brother Adams and to them we suggest the emulation of his life and character.

Be it further resolved, that in the death of Brother Adams Newark Lodge loses one of its oldest and most esteemed members; his church a consistent christian character, his family a kind and loving husband and father and the community a good neighbor and useful citizen.

Resolved further, that these resolutions be spread upon the record, a copy furnished the family of the deceased and a copy to The Newark Journal for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
John Austin,
A. J. McSpadden,
H. V. Williams,
Committee.

We have several desirable pieces of good property in and around Newark for sale at bargain prices. If you are interested in buying property of any kind, see us. E. G. Magness & Co.

VENEER PLANT AT NEWPORT DESTROYED

Heavy Loss Caused by Fire Only Partly Covered by Insurance

Newport, Sept. 18.—At noon Saturday fire originating in the boiler-room of the Cotton Plant Veneer Company destroyed more than half of the plant, including all machinery and the main building, with considerable stock. However, a big effort to save the stock of veneer for manufacturing furniture was made by the firemen.

The company's plant, valued at $75,000, was insured for less than half of that amount, as the rate of insurance on such plants is exceptionally high. The loss of the company is about $35,000.

It was one of the largest manufacturing concerns in this section of the State and employed a large force of men.

The owners, H. C. Spencer, president, and M. C. Wilkinson secretary and treasurer, are heavy losers, but it is thought the plant will be rebuilt soon. The company came to Newport from Cotton Plant three years ago, and is one of the big concerns of this county.

NEWPORT SCHOOLS OPEN

Newport, Sept. 22.—The Newport schools opened Tuesday morning. An enrollment of almost 1,000 was announced by the superintendent J. H. Patterson. The splendid faculty numbering 23 members is a strong one, and the year's work promises splendid results.

UNCLE BEN ADAMS DEAD

B. H. Adams died Sunday morning at his home here, following a prolonged illness.

Uncle Ben was born in Tennessee in 1842 but came to Arkansas with his parents when quite a small boy and had been a resident of Independence county for more than 70 years.

He united with the Methodist church when quite a young man and was a man of splendid christian character. He is survived by his wife and one son, A. M. Adams of Vashti, Tex. He died the day before he was 78 years old and was buried on his birthday.

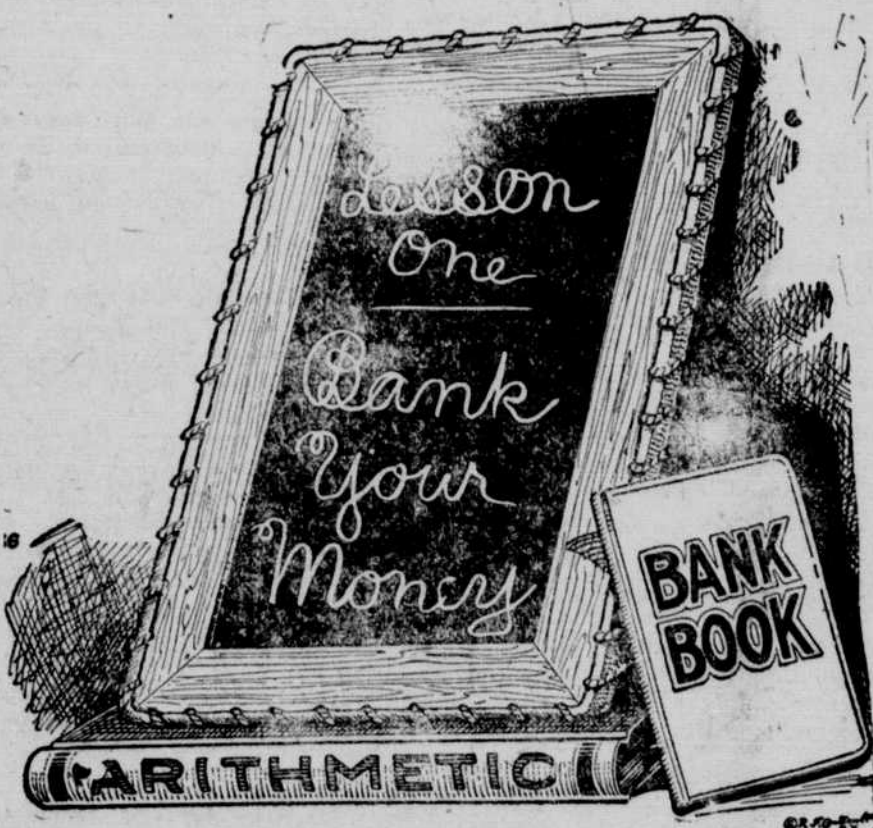

The funeral was held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon, Rev. E. W. Nelson conducting the funeral services. The remains were buried at Blue Springs under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity of which he had been a member for nearly 50 years.

CONTEST DISMISSED

The suit filed in circuit court by E. F. DeCamp who sought to contest the election of Noah Harris for sheriff, came up Saturday before Judge Coleman at Batesville. Judge Coleman held that the evidence of fraud as submitted by Mr. DeCamp was not sufficient to justify a re-count of the votes, and the case was dismissed by the court.

INSTALL LIGHT PLANT

An electric light plant is being installed by the Newark Gin Company. This will enable them to run their gin day and night if it should become necessary to do so in order to keep their gin from becoming congested with cotton.

The Buck's Stoves have been sold in Batesville by the same firm for over forty years.

They have been giving satisfaction for the past forty years and are still giving service and satisfaction today.

They are built of new, gray, southern pig iron. A material that heats up quickly, looks good, will not rust like seel ranges, and will last for years.

They have large fireboxes, that will take in long sticks of wood. The ovens are large and well proportioned. The ovens are ventilated, and are built so that your food will cook the same in all parts of the oven. You do not have to turn your pans around when you cook in a Buck's Oven.

Before you buy, come in and let us show you a Bucks Stove or Range. We have them in nearly all sizes, and can give you the size you need.
